Association declares Marilyn Harris Homecoming queen

Voters poll

VOTERS REQUEST ballots for last Thursday's Homecoming queen election. More than 800 students voted in the "mixed-up" queen election. This is the largest turnout registered at the polls in any election since the post-World War II years.

McGregor talks to zoo seminar

THE BI-weekly zoology seminar was high-lighted by an hour long lecture on "Introducing Anthropology." The lecture was given by Dr. John C. McGregor, Professor of Anthropology, at the University of Illinois, September 30.

Dr. McGregor's main field of interest is archaeology, but he is also interested in physical anthropology and has done work in dendrochronology (tree-ring dating), both in the Southwest and Midwest. Dr. McGregor and a group of students have recently returned from more than two months spent at work in northern Arizona.

Subsequent meetings in this series, planned by Dr. Harold M. Davins, will include the appearance of the Curator of Anthropology of the Illinois State Museum, color movies of archeology, and a talk on linguistics as a method of anthropological research.

The next Zoology Seminar will be held on October 15 at 7 p.m. The theme of the meeting will be anthropology.

'Homecoming Previews' . . .

Assembly to feature skits, pep session

HOMEcoming Previews," the assembly program for next Wednesday, will be held in the Health Education building, Lou Quayle student chairman of the Homecoming assembly committee announced.

Past experience has shown that students were not definitely informed about Homecoming activities. This assembly will be presented for the purpose of informing students of the time and place of all events.

There will be a take off on all Homecoming activities. Included in the program will be a skit from the play, take offs' on the bonfire, freshman and sophomore activities, parade, football game, concert and dance.

FINAL ANNOUNCEMENT of a queen for the 1953 Homecoming was made after a special session of the Senate of the Student Association last Friday. Queen is Miss Marilyn Harris, a junior botany major from Yale.

The Association voted four to two in favor of accepting a plan to correct the queen election mix-up offered by the elections committee.

Math club plans October meeting

MATH CLUB will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 20, in M14, according to Dr. Lawrence A. Ringenberg, club adviser. Noel Boatz, Don Brough, and Neil Kepner are in charge of the meeting. The topic for discussion has not been announced.

All math club members of last year are urged to attend, also all students interested in mathematics are invited to attend.

Representatives from the four campus organizations which sponsored candidates in the election were present at the meeting and testified before the Senate before a final decision was reached.

Plan offered by the elections committee called for a recall of the votes cast by members of the football team. The football team had been contacted Thursday in Grand Rapids, Mich., and team members were asked to recast the same ballot they cast in the morning election. Results of the football team's votes were then tabulated by Coach Maynard "Pat" O'Brien and phoned from Michigan to the elections committee.

Votes cast by the football team were then subtracted from each candidate's totals and the final results were determined.

Other solutions presented in the Senate were (1) that a new election be called and (2) that all candidates withdraw in favor of the winners as of 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

It was decided that the time element would not permit the calling of another election. The second alternative was dropped.

Two more alternatives, making a total of five, were offered in the Senate, but received no consideration.

Trouble over the election stemmed from a violation of the permanent election rules which states that the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. No provision had been made for a method of absentee voting.

Charges of election fraud filled the air after the Thursday election, but no formal charges have been brought against any campus organization to this effect.

Difference between the two top contenders for the Homecoming queen stood at 13 Thursday. Subtraction of the football teams' votes did not change the outcome of the election.

Difference of 14 votes between the two top candidates for queen was the result of final polling. Two

Home economics club initiates 25

HOME ECONOMICS club held an initiation last Wednesday evening in the department for the 25 new freshman members. After the meeting tea and cookies were served.

Three junior girls, Martha Brown, Diane McKnight, and Clara Kingery entertained their parents at a dinner last Sunday at the South Home Management house.

Association writes open letter

IN EXPLANATION to inquiries concerning the original Homecoming elections, the Student Association has released the following.

We sincerely regret the unfortunate circumstances regarding the Homecoming election.

In the Student Association as in other governing bodies there are members who are not certain of the limits of the authority which is vested in them, consequently they are apt to understep or overstep their authority. The acceptance of early votes was an overstepping of authority.

The decision seemed justifiable to those involved, for they remembered that in a particular election the previous year, team members were allowed to vote. They did not recall, however, that those ballots were disregarded in the count.

This being only the second working year of the Association, many points have yet to be ironed. We are in the process of making amendments to the present constitution. We realize that there are yet many loop holes.

We are eager to receive any and all of your suggestions for we represent You.

Association attempts . . .

to beg-off on queen fiasco

AN OPEN letter from the Senate of the Student Association asking to be excused from a direct violation of the constitution of the Student Association, appears on the front page of this weeks News. Subtly enough, the Association does not fill in the names of the persons who "overstepped their authority," nor does it explain the exact violations of the constitution.

All indications point to the fact that the persons who were out of order were (1) Chuck Younger, president of the Student Association, and (2) Jackie Olsen, of the elections committee.

The first step in the violation of the constitution and its by-laws came when Younger made a "hazy" statement about allowing the football players to vote in the Homecoming queen election before the polls were scheduled to open.

Grounds for Younger's defense can be found in Article IV, Section 2a of the constitution. This article states that the executive may enact emergency legislation if it is "expedient to the welfare of the student body, such legislation not to be contrariwise to the articles of this constitution."

We feel that Younger consented to allowing the football players a vote in the election in good faith. However, the football team represents only a part of the student body, not the whole. True, future provisions should be made for persons to vote who are not on campus the day of the election. But no existing provisions were in force for the queen election.

Point two against the action taken is that the fifth election rule states that the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. No provision is made for voting at 7 a.m. in the Little Campus.

Jackie Olsen, acting in the capacity of elections chairman during the absence of Martin Chilovich, was responsible for the conducting of the early polling in the Little Campus (not even school property). Her inexcusable act was that she did not say "no" to the indefinite advice of Younger concerning the early polling by football players.

Instead, Miss Olsen took the initiative in conducting the election, without the full consent of the elections committee. This act was a wholesale violation of the election rules.

The damage has been done and the situation has "seemingly" been corrected to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. A formal investigation and recommendations by the Senate judicial committee are in order so that future mix-ups of this sort may be avoided.

Student government members know when they run for positions on the Association that they will not be thanked in any way for their efforts. They also know that when they pull a boner, they will have to answer for it. If the persons on the Association are not willing to accept the responsibilities of their jobs, they should not be allowed to continue in office.

If students do not demand an investigation and allow the Association to beg off with a formal statement, they can anticipate a repeat of the Homecoming queen fiasco.

LAST WEEK marked the close of one of the largest campaigns on Eastern's campus during the school year—that of the Homecoming queen. As in previous campaigns, posters with candidates' pictures were on display.

Each year, the expense for these pictures is shouldered by the individual candidate or the organization which sponsors the candidate. These photographs are the property of these persons or their organizations and do not belong to the light fingered individuals who tear them from posters during the campaigns.

Satisfaction received in the taking or destroying of these pictures remains a mystery to many students, but each day of the last week's campaign found fewer and fewer of the candidates' pictures in their original places. Where these photos disappeared to is not known. Some charge mischievous children with taking the pictures. Others speculate that college men might have taken them.

The fact remains that the pictures are the property of the candidates or their organizations, and taking them is nothing more than common thievery.

Stop sign on Fourth . . .

imperative to safety of children

SOMEONE IS going to be killed—unless a measure is taken to slow traffic down on Fourth street. Campus city residents have been particularly alarmed about the speed demons that pilot their automobiles down Fourth street at 50 miles plus.

Operators of these autos do not realize the danger of traveling at more than 20 miles an hour down through this section of the college. Many children play around this area and cannot be kept out of the streets all of the time. Not only children, but adults often step on to Fourth street without thinking about looking both directions.

Granted, the residence section of the college is marked at both the north and south ends of Fourth street, but the markings are not enough.

Action should be taken immediately for it is a proved fact that more accidents occur during the waning hours of autumn evenings than during other seasons.

This hazard is dangerous not only to drivers who are blinded by the setting sun, glaring through the windshield, but also to pedestrians who are unable to look all ways before crossing the street.

Some other measures will have to be taken. Perhaps a stop sign to slow the speedsters down would help. If such measures are not taken to avoid a tragedy, it will undoubtedly happen.

Audree's apropos

by Audree McMillan

IT'S FUNNY, after living through such a hectic, crammed week, when it comes time to write a column there is nothing to say. I guess it's all been said by every little Easternite who has ears and a mouth. Therefore rather than re-hash everything let's look ahead.

For a change of scene why not try the Pancake festival at Villa Grove tonight? It sounds like fun since Eastern will get into the act with our band giving a concert and Kay Curry, Villa Grove sophomore, reigning as Pancake Queen. The orchestra for the night will be led by a man named Kaye, not Sammy, however, but Johnny. Donna Briggs, freshman from Danville, was excitedly asking about the exact location of Villa Grove. This will be her first college band trip and the fact that Villa Grove is only a few miles away didn't seem to dampen her enthusiasm.

Phil Brown, who has one of the most pleasant personalities on campus, will graduate at the end of this quarter, I hear. You see Phil working that cash register at the cafeteria with his partner in crime Ken Ludwig, another swell guy.

The "caff," by the way, really has "atmosphere" now that it's been re-decorated. It's a wonder the paper is on straight though. One morning I sat and stared at the poor paper hanger as he attempted to finish his job balanced on a step ladder. I wasn't intentionally staring at him.

Once in awhile I go on one of these naming-nice-guys splurges. I do this whenever Eastern's co-eds start griping about the no-good men on campus. This doesn't happen very often and few of the gals really mean it. Anyway to complete the list we have Larry Mizner, manager of the Ko-op, who is for Eastern all the way, and Louie Goekler who has a heart big enough for three fellows.

Miss is Mister, 'News' apologizes

THE News has made one of its notorious errors again. The error occurred in the coverage of the new faculty members in the first edition.

The story mentioned a Miss Cary Knoop as substitute instructor and art supervisor of the campus elementary school. After rumors reached the News office, the staff checked on the matter and found that she is a he.

Mr. Knoop has taken quite a ribbing from his colleagues, according to reliable sources. The News wishes to issue a formal apology and squelch all possibility of Missing a Mister.

'News' finds error in volume number

VOLUME NUMBERS of the News have been exactly one volume ahead of schedule. Last January when the News printed the "economy issue," the volume number was changed. Volume number of the publication changes only at the beginning of each school year in September.

The present volume number is XXXIX. The date line under the name-plate of the News carries the volume number with the word corrected in parentheses. This is to denote that an error has been made in the volume numbering of the News and that the error has been corrected. Persons filing the News should make note of the correction.

Original faculty member dies in New York

MR. HENRY Johnson, a member of Eastern's first faculty died early Saturday, October 3, in Rochelle, N. Y. News of Mr. Johnson's death reached Eastern by a wire to Dr. Charles Coleman, head of the social science department.

Mr. Johnson was 86 years old.

Homecoming, convention upset Carwell; calls conflict 'tragic'

by Virginia Carwell

TWO OF the nicest things that can happen to a school year Homecomings and conventions!

But, when both a Homecoming and a convention are scheduled for the same weekend, the situation is almost unbearable, and when that situation is repeated for five or six years straight, it is tragic. That is what has once again happened to the News and Warrenton staffs, the Association of Collegiate Press convention and the Eastern Homecoming.

To the editor . . .

LIBRARY FACILITIES can be made available to students during weekends.

However, the library has remained open during weekends at previous times and students have made little use of this convenience.

The library staff would be forced to enlarge, which would be an added expense. A majority of the students spend weekends at home and those who remain on campus have other activities planned. The library could afford this added expense, if students would make use of the library facilities.

Senate suggests solution to problem of absentee voting

Editor's note—The recent mix-up in the Homecoming queen election has brought about prompt action by the Senate of the Student Association on the matter of absentee voting. Below is printed a suggested solution which came from the special session of the Senate last Friday.

Sec. 1—Absentee ballots will be given only to students who will be absent from school during the hours of the election (8 a.m. to 4 p.m.).

Sec. 2—Absentee voters must identify themselves to the satisfaction of the director of student activities.

Sec. 3—Absentee voting will begin at 8 a.m. two days preceding the election.

Sec. 4a—Voting will take place in the Student Activities office under the surveillance of the director of student activities.

Sec. 4b—Procedure: One ballot will be given to each absentee voter who will mark the ballot while in the presence of the director of student activities, and, upon completion of marking and folding the ballot, the voter will immediately give the marked and folded ballot to the director of student activities. The director of student activities will then sign the ballot, and place the ballot into the locked ballot box in his office.

The absentee voter's name will then be checked from the complete list of the students enrolled at Eastern Illinois State college, the same list to be used at the polls on the day of the election.

Pem hall notes

By Marilyn Fears

PEM HALL will strive for a prize with house decorations this year. At our house council meeting last week Homecoming was discussed and it was decided to concentrate on the house decorations and not to enter a float. Nancy Vaughan is in charge of the house decorations.

We have been eating in our dining room since last week much to the joy of all the Pemites. The kitchen has undergone many improvements.

Two girls from Pem are running for freshman attendant, Jo Bostic and Marie Housel. Also, two more of our freshmen, Jackie Braden and Linda Sinclair, won honors by being elected cheerleaders.

Pem hall had its election of officers last spring. However, due to two of the officers not returning, the vice-presidency and secretary-treasurer positions are open. All those interested in these positions turned in their petitions last week.

Douglas hall elects Bill Meyer prexy

ELECTION OF officers was held in Douglas hall last week according to an announcement made by Dr. Donald A. Kluge, director of the hall.

Those elected and their positions are: Bill "Punch" Meyer, president; Don "Butch" Jehling, vice-president; Gene Murray, secretary; Maurice "Whitey" Hemphill, treasurer; Joe O'Dell, social chairman.

Panthers meet Hurons here Saturday

MICHIGAN STATE Normal's Hurons will bring a three-game winning streak with them Saturday, when they encounter Eastern's Panthers at 2 p.m. on Lincoln field.

This will be the Hurons first IAC conference game of the season although they have played three games already. The past three weeks Michigan State's Hurons have stopped Hope 21-6, Hillsdale 28-13 and Wayne college 13-6.

Bob Middlekauff, ace quarterback, will be the main threat to the Panthers. Bob completed three out of four passes in the Hillsdale game for 78 yards in his aerial attack.

Michigan Normal had four men who saw limited action in their opener with Hope, but shaped up in the second week and started in the Hillsdale game.

Nick Manych accounted for a 73-yard pass play, and Dick Moseley picked up 104 yards on punt and kickoff returns and an interception. Bill Williams led the rushing in the Hope game which included a 53-yard TD through the center of the line. The Hurons have been improving over the last two weeks and will be a strong contender for the Panthers, Saturday.

Vaskin Badalow, Michigan Normal's extra-point expert, could not be left out of the mentioning. He has kicked eight out of nine attempts so far this season.

Zeigel attends meeting of North Central

DR. WILLIAM Zeigel attended the annual meeting of the Illinois State committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The meeting was held yesterday at Lincoln hall theatre in Champaign-Urbana.

Dr. Zeigel took part in a group discussion, "Managing College Days."

WAA news . . .

PLEASANT WEATHER and lots of enthusiasm seems to be the primary factors in the large groups that are out for the fall activities of the Women's Athletic association.

Practice in team play and playing one's own position were the main points stressed by hockey club head Mary Lou Moore in last week's meeting. Individual stick work will be emphasized when the group practices in response to an invitation to attend a hockey sportsday at the University of Illinois, Saturday, November 14.

Wednesday and Thursday night badminton groups have continued with practice in doubles groups and a doubles tournament will be set up in the near future by sport heads Norma Siegel and Lucy Muchmore.

For the first time in several years, social dance club has had enough men for the number of women out for this activity according to Carolyn Garwood, dance club head. There could still be more out, however, as there is ample space in the dance studio for interested beginners and others who want to brush up on the various dance steps.

Although ping pong is still about the favorite activity of the individual sports club, Donna Richison, club leader, has convinced the group of 17 that much enjoyment can be found in croquet and shuffleboard.

Special meeting of the WAA council was held at 12:30 p.m. last Friday as the group made final decision on the plans for the Homecoming float and the budget committee held at short meeting.

Mixed chorus elects Lake as president

MIXED CHORUS elected officers for the following year at one of their regular meetings last week. George Lake, junior music major from Bridgeport, will act as president; Sue Morrison, music major from Peotone is vice-president; and Glenalee Roberds, art major from Lawrenceville is business and publicity manager.

Dr. John Rezatto is directing the group this year.

Things as they are

by Paul Cox

I DON'T know whether my little article last week about Napoleon having school spirit or the fact that the Homecoming candidates wanted to put a few last minute yells in, but approximately 100 persons were up at the crack of dawn, last Thursday morning around 7:30 a.m. to give Coach O'Brien and his Panther traveling squad a real send off for Mt. Pleasant, Mich. A pep band played songs while all the Homecoming candidates were sitting in convertible waving at the boys. Coach O'Brien gave a little speech and was very grateful for the wonderful send off.

In the opening games of the intramurals last week I saw quite a few good teams in action.

It is a little early to pick the winner of the football league, but I have an idea it will be a close race this year. Independent Union had a forfeit last week and I was unable to see how they looked but they should have a good team. The Tekes and Phi Sigs also rate at the top of the list in my opinion and the Sig Pi's could easily up-set the apple cart with their offensive threat.

Some people have never seen an intramural touch football game. Well, it is just as hard to play touch football as it is to play the regular game. In touch most people think of just touching the runner. In intramurals it is different. Each player has a little rope with three knots tied in it. He tucks it down in the back of his pants even with the shirt line with two knots showing so the defensive man can pull it out.

Whenever a man pulls the rope out, he holds it up and the play is stopped where he held it up. There are no flying body blocks and a man can't leave his feet in any block. This sort of touch football is very interesting and very hard to play. There are usually a lot of penalties due to the way the players pull the rope out. It is very hard to just grab for the rope so a lot of times a man will try to hold the runner while he pulls the rope out. This is trying to be stopped because it is very dangerous to both men. It is a 15-yard penalty for this act. Sometimes when you have nothing to do around 4 p.m. go out to the intramural football fields behind Lincoln-Douglas halls and watch a game. You will enjoy it.

Nelson McMullen, better known as "Mooner" around campus was sort of kidding me last week about putting his name in my column. It is a little early to mention it, because "Mooner" plays first base for Eastern's baseball team. I will probably be writing about him next spring and baseball isn't the sport being played right now anyway. But, really he will be surprised when he sees this because he didn't think I would put his name in the paper. WELL, "Mooner" here it is, "MOON" McMULLEN.

Michigan Normal's backfield had better be fast this Saturday because if they're not they may have trouble. Normal's backfield only averages 166 pounds and their line 186. If they're not fast I don't know what they will use for protection.

Michigan beats Eastern 33-6; O'Dell scores only Panther TD

CENTRAL MICHIGAN'S Chips handed Eastern their first conference defeat of the season, last Friday night, at Mt. Pleasant, Mich. by a 33-6 margin when Jim Podeley, Chips sophomore track ace, romped 53 yards in their first play from scrimmage.

Central Michigan whipped Eastern just like they did Iowa State two weeks ago. Three of the five TD's scored by the Chips were over 50-yard runs. In the Iowa State game the Chips also ran three TD's over 50 yards.

Eastern started a drive in the first quarter and at the end of the quarter were sitting on the front door of the Chip's goalpost. With just 50 seconds in the second quarter, halfback John O'Dell plunged three-yards through the right tackle for the Panthers only score in the game.

Central Michigan scored three of their five TD's in the first quarter. Podeley romped 53 yards on an off-tackle play in their first play from scrimmage and with about nine minutes gone in the opening quarter LaWolf headed around right end and sprinted 70 yards for the second longest run in the game. Walz did the extra point kicking for the Chips. He missed the first one but made the second attempt good.

Jerry Thomas bucked his way 11 yards through the middle with just six and a half minutes to go in the first quarter. Walz kicked the PAT to end the scoring until the next quarter.

After Eastern scored in the second quarter, they kicked the ball to the Chips 20-yard line on the kick-off where Chuck Miller ran it back to Eastern's end zone for the longest run in the game. In the third quarter both teams failed to score.

Fifteen seconds had passed in the final quarter when Chuch Miller again scored for the Chips on a one-yard plunge through tackle for the final TD. Walz kicked the PAT.

Long runs were the highlight of the Chip's offense. One was 53 yards, another was 70 yards and the longest was 80 yards. In first downs Eastern collected 8 while Central Michigan ran up 13. Yards rushing were 88 for the Panthers and 234 for the Chips. In the passing department both teams attempted 19 while Eastern completed 5 and Central completed 7. Yards gained by passing were 54 for Eastern and 96 for the Chips.

Queen election delights Clyde; gets kick out of 'family feud'

By Clyde Nealy

WHO IS queen? What are they going to do? These were questions on everybody's tongue after the Homecoming election last week. At the time this was written there was still no answer.

It was some controversy. Not knowing all the facts (I heard both sides of the story but they were as different as day and night) I don't have an opinion one way or the other. However, I got a big kick out of it as it was the first real interesting family feud we've had around here in ages.

The quarrel shows that we are now ready to go out into the world which is full of arguments. The fact that we are able to start a few of our own, just as the Democrats, Republicans, Communists, and a senator from Wisconsin have started, shows how mature we are.

I can remember the days when I was a small boy (in age, that is, not mentally). I always thought I was the lone dishonest person in a world of honest people, but now I am beginning to believe I am the lone honest person in a world of cheaters after seeing how nobody trusts anybody.

Some person or group of persons made a mistake or two which led to all this trouble, but mistakes are part of life and everybody has made them. Many are more costly than the mere hurt feelings of our squabble.

I'm closing the subject and I want to say no matter how the thing was finally decided, lets don't have any hard feelings lingering. I hope I don't get investigated for mentioning the junior senator from Badgerland.

I received much adverse criticism of my first column but none was worse than that which was dealt out by Phil Fellers and Carroll Dunn. They are two of the three boys who stay at the same place as myself. They spent half of Wednesday night picking it apart. Don Petty (no relation to Carlene) but like most males here, a great admirer of hers, was the only one who didn't have anything to say about the masterpiece. He didn't say anything good for it either. I don't even have to read it myself as Don reads it to me.

I must be picking up culture in my old age as on successive nights I went to Catherine Smith's faculty recital and Dr. Alter's talks on ancient Egypt and enjoyed both of them even though the talk on Egypt didn't include Cleopatra. The Campus won't be the same after Bob Dill leaves for the army in the next month or so. I can always count on him to make some remark about my sleeping late in the morning when I stumble in every day at 10:30 or 11 for my breakfast since my first class is at 2. I have been trying to convince him I get up always before 8:30 but he won't believe me. By the way, I never have tried any of Ike's coffee so I don't know how bad it is. I just count the people as they carry them out.

I really shouldn't say anything bad about Ike's place as he allowed Dave Jacobson, Jim Kirtland, Wayne Woody (that lady killer from Effingham), and yours truly play bridge there while the lounge was closed. Incidentally, Dave, Jim, and Wayne have all gone to the U. of I. and it is pretty hard to rehabilitate them to the right way of playing bridge, which naturally is my way.

From what I hear, Charlotte Steinman and Barbara Marx have been taking a beating because they are transfers from Southern. Dr. Alter says they finally saw the light and transferred. They make me feel old as they are both graduates of Edwardsville high and I didn't know either until two week ago. I must have not seen them before as I never forget a pretty face.

If you enjoy my column, don't hesitate to say so as my ego needs some inflating. Those of you that don't like it, keep your opinions to yourself. I know I can't fool all of you, but if the bright ones keep still then I can fool some of the others.

Eastern high nips Paris squad 7-0

COACH WALT Elmore's boys kept their conference record clean last Friday, at Lincoln field, when Dale Rennels pushed his way over right tackle on a 15 yard run for the only score in the game.

Eastern State rolled up four first downs on their march down field before Rennels went over. Jerry Henderson scored the PAT on an off-tackle play.

Paris Tigers started a drive in the first quarter and drove to Eastern's two-yard line. Paris decided to pass and lost the ball on downs. Paris came out ahead in first downs collecting 14 while State picked up 12. State now has a over-all record of 2-1 and a conference record of 2-0.

Intramural grid competition hits peak

Football program gets underway with Tekes, Phi Sigs victorious

COMPETITION IN touch football and soccer departments of the All-Sports trophy league has been under way since September 28, with eight teams entered. The tennis doubles were opened on Thursday, October 1.

Dr. Clifton White stated that the following teams have entered the All-Sports trophy league for the coming season; (Managers names are listed after their team.)

Sig Tau—Jon Ulz.
Independent Union—J. Edward Tichenor.

Douglas Hall Devils — James Kirtland.

Tekes—Joe Knollenberg.
Kappa Sigs—Jim Fredenberger.
Douglas Hall Demons — Skip Leden.

Sig Pi—Jack Vick
Phi Sigs—Tom Schreck.

The winner of the All-Sports trophy receives a large traveling trophy as well as a permanent one. Only one organized team has been entered in the Independent league thus far, according to Dr. White. The Fossels, a team composed entirely of faculty and headed by Dr. Max Ferguson, is the sole entry.

Anyone may enter a team in this league provided he can meet the arranged schedule.

Last Monday in the opening games Independent Union took a forfeit from Sig Tau while Phi Sigs defeated Douglas Hall Devils by a 48-12 margin. Bill Parmentier paced the Phi Sigs with three TD's. Gene Frantz collected two while Bill Reid and Tom Schreck went across for one apiece. Burris and Mitchell scored the Demons two TD's.

Tekes nipped the Douglas Hall Demons by a slim 18-13 and Sig Pi stopped Kappa Sigs 15-13. Tekes scored two

'News' wins All-American

NEWS RECEIVED its tenth All-American award from the Associated Collegiate Press for second half of 1953. All American is the highest award given to college papers belonging to ACP.

The News is entered in the class of weekly newspapers from colleges having enrolments between 1000-2499. From this class of 52 papers, only six others received the All-American award. The majority of the papers in this class received second-class rating.

An unusually high number of "superior" and "excellent" ratings were given the News in individual classifications. Three superiors, a bonus award, were given for creativeness, features and coverage. Eighteen excellent ratings were given. News vitality and content, features makeup and sports are a few classifications that received "excellent" ratings.

Judges mentioned on comment sheets that the editorial page and feature columns received extra credit. "An excellent coverage of sports, including physical education" was another comment.

Bill Danley was editor of the News last year.

In 1951 and 1952 All-American award was received for both halves of the school year making a total of four All-American awards for those two years.

In a letter received from the ACP informing the News of its rating was this quote, "The judges want to emphasize again that the All-American rating is reserved for truly outstanding papers."

top candidates were Marilyn Harris and Mary Ellen Lee.

Midge Seaman, senior from Mattoon, won the senior attendant of the queen's court by a comfortable margin of 15 votes. He nearest competitor was Marge Weller.

Earlene Petty edged out queen Marilyn Harris for junior attendant honors. Miss Petty won by a close five votes in the final polling. She is from Pana.

Mary Ellen Lee won the place as sophomore attendant to the queen's court in a walk away. Miss Lee's nearest competitor was 34 votes behind in the final count.

Landslide victory for head football greeter was clinched by Nancy Vaughn. Nearest vote poller to Miss Vaughn was 106 votes behind in final results.

Nearly 800 votes were cast in the election. This total is the greatest number of votes polled in any election at Eastern since the post-World War II years.

Johnson, Dunlap win frosh election

JO ANN Johnson and Don Dunlap emerged victorious in the elections of freshman attendant and freshman leader last Friday. Miss Johnson is from Springfield. Dunlap is from Bridgeport.

Election results show that only 67 persons voted for the freshman attendant and 163 for freshman leader. Percentage wise, little more than 33 per cent of a freshman class of 508 voted in the election.

Miss Johnson's nearest contender was six votes behind in the final figures released by the elections committee. Two top vote getters in the election besides Miss Johnson were Joan Bostic and Marie Housel.

Difference of six votes between the winner and runner up in the freshman leader election was also reported by the elections committee. Runner up in the freshman leader election was John Wiess.

Elementary school conducts speech, hearing clinic

SPEECH AND hearing clinic was held for all the students in the Elementary Laboratory school last Monday and Tuesday, according to Dr. William B. Knox, principal of the school.

Dr. Knox stated that work with children who have defects would be done during class hours with the cooperation of the students' parents. The work done with the students will be done by the teacher with assistance from the school speech and hearing clinic.

The clinic was carried on by Dr. Wayne L. Thurman, from the speech and hearing clinic and Mrs. Virginia Ryle, of the health education department. The students will be tested thoroughly in a sound proof room before the teachers begin working with them.

Library reports air conditioning working 'fine'

EIGHTY THOUSAND volumes and 580 current magazines on subscription are available in the library at the present time, according to statistics the library staff has gathered for annual reports.

Air-conditioning in the east room, which students have been eagerly awaiting for several years, was completed in mid-August. During the time the air-conditioning system has been in operation, it has proved very satisfactory, stated Dr. Roscoe Schaupp, head librarian.

The browsing room is becoming increasingly popular with students, said Schaupp. All of the new books which are of a popular or semi-technical nature are placed in the browsing room so students can become familiar with them.

Dr. Schaupp has asked for students to give the title and author of any book which they are interested in having the library purchase.

The music listening room has not opened yet. It will open whenever a music librarian is hired. Approximately 3,000 albums of records are in the music listening room. The music listening room will be open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. each day and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights.
